Grant opportunities

We remind you that RC25 is able to provide sessions to present research related to language because of its membership. Language may be a core part of your scholarship, or only one part at one moment in time. We strongly encourage you to become a member of RC25 to support us to provide these sessions. Apart from this very practical consequence of membership, RC25 offers several opportunities, including fundings (see below). Also, in early 2023, RC25 members will vote for the new executive board, which is the team who take care about the membership and organize activities, and also Language, Discourse & Society, our journal.

Fundings and options:

- All scholars: Cheap local accommodation selection
- PhD student and Early Career Scholars from B and C countries in the Asia-Pacific region: Travel bursaries
- All students: ISA membership grants
- ISA and RC25 members: Registration grants to the Melbourne Congress à applicable also if you belong to another RC, then you need to send them your application
- RC25 student members: travel grants

All scholars: Cheap local accommodation selection

Regarding lower costs, the local organizing committee ensure a selection of hotel and hostel options, with shared dorm type accommodation starting at around $35USD per night. The list will be available and the places are informed about so many sociologist coming.

PhD student and Early Career Scholars from B and C countries in the Asia-Pacific region: Travel bursaries

TASA, with the support of ISA, has also made bursaries available to support travel to Melbourne for PhD students and Early Career Scholars from B and C countries in the Asia-Pacific region (details: https://www.tasa.org.au/content.aspx?page_id=22&club_id=671860&module_id=537374). The deadline to apply for a bursary is the 16th January 2023.

All students: ISA membership grants

Thanks ISA Solidarity Fund, each Research Committee can deliver ISA membership grants for students:

- up to 3 students from category A countries
- up to 5 students from category B and C countries

If you are a student or know a student who can be interested, please fill the attached form and send it to president@language-and-society.org. Grantees will be waived the membership fee for 2023-2027. This is a unique opportunity to become ISA member at no cost for the student, knowing that membership enables reduced registration fees for Melbourne and the Forum of Sociology (2025).
The deadline to apply for these grants is October 15th 2022. It is compatible with the two below grants (see below), i.e. ISA registration grant and RC25 travel grant if you are member of RC25 too.

ISA and RC25 members: Registration grants to the Melbourne Congress

This grant is dedicated to members in good standing both for ISA and RC25. If you are ISA member and belong to another RC, contact this other RC for this grant.

Thanks ISA Solidarity Fund, RC25 may select grantees to receive registration grants for the WCS in Melbourne. The overall amount has be doubled compared to past years, so we may be able to support this way several members. We do not announce how many, because the number will depend on status (regular or student) and country (A, B, C).

If you wish to apply, please fill the attached form and send it to president@language-and-society.org.

The deadline to apply for registration grants is January 31st 2022. If you are a student, it is compatible to apply also on ISA membership grant (see above) and RC25 travel grant (see below).

RC25 student members: travel grants

RC25 offers travel grants for RC25 students as follows:

- up to 1 student from category A countries (400€)
- up to 3 students from category B and C countries (700€ per person)

If you wish to apply, please fill the attached form and send it to president@language-and-society.org.

The deadline to apply for RC25 travel grants is January 31st 2022. If you are a student, it is compatible to apply also on both ISA membership grant and ISA registration grant (see above).

I hope the elements may enhance your participation, and facilitate further steps with your session.

Do not hesitate to contact us in the meanwhile,

Kind regards,

Stéphanie Cassilde

RC25 Nairobi 2022 Virtual International Conference
Theme: Looking at Language to Reveal Opportunities and Threats in the Global Village

Earlier in the year (15th to 17th June 2022), RC25 partnered with Kenyatta University, Kenya, to host an international conference. The conference had initially been meant to be on-site; however, travel and health safety uncertainties caused by COVID-19 forced the decision to host the event virtually. The conference was opened by the Vice-chancellor of Kenyatta University who noted that “the endeavor to ‘look at language’ across various significant areas such education, law, health and gender is indeed important in promoting new principles and ways of exploiting the great resource that language is for globalization”.

This statement speaks to the various thematic areas that the conference presentations covered. Among these were language and gender, language and politics, language and education as well as language and health issues.

To underscore the global and shared nature of the challenges the current century presents, the conference had a joint plenary session with a parallel RC25 event that was happening in Belfast. From Nairobi, Phyllis Mwangi and Mbugua wa Mungai presented a paper titled Interrogating Language as a Social Bridge Extended to Individual with Developmental Disabilities: A Critical Discourse Analysis Approach. From Belfast, Anna Perkowaska-Keljman, Magda Lejzerowicz, Julien-Ferencz Kis, Florica Ortan, Rolf Magnus Grung, Dag Dehleen, Lynne Marsh and Sam Abdulla made a presentation on Inclusive Language and Disability. The Changes in Terminology in Selected European Countries.

The Nairobi event also had two keynote presentations. Focusing on language and gender, Felicia Yieke’s keynote presentation, Language and Gender in Interrogating the Glass Ceiling Syndrome for Women in Leadership in Higher Education and the Corporate World, held up the language mirror to reflect the unequal representation of women in the higher echelons of power in both academia and industry. On her part, Maud Mazaniello-Chézol’s presentation, Symbolic Boundaries in Healthcare Transition, brought to the fore the gaps in the language of hyperspecialized integrated health care that may impact on the social wellbeing of adolescents who are transitioning from pediatric care to adult care.

A preconference event on 15th June 2022 featured a scholarly publication workshop hosted by Eloisa Martin, ISA’s Vice-president in charge of publications. This was followed by a writing workshop hosted by Stephanie Cassilde, President of RC25, and Chege Githiora from Kenyatta University. The subsequent two-day conference featured over 60 presentations in three parallel breakout rooms.

Gatitu Kiguru and Phyllis W. Mwangi
Last August during summer break, I joined RC 25 Online Writing Retreat, hosted on Kumospace. The agenda was five writing sessions of two hours each for three weeks; coordinated by Stephanie Cassilde and scheduled to fit with Asia and Europe time zones. I did not know what to expect and decided to trust the process. Given that I had to meet a deadline to finish a chapter contribution for a collective book, this WR was timely.

The format is like meeting friends to go study in the Library. First, we connect and say a few words about our day; next we tell the group what our objective is for the session; and then we sit in our Kumospace, quietly, writing away, with participants’ faces showing in the ‘garden’. After one hour, the host says a few words to see how we are doing… if we have questions, or something to discuss we move to a separate ‘bench-space’ to discuss it, while the rest of the group is continuing their project.

To my surprise, time disappeared very fast. Unlike zoom meetings, the Writing Retreat is silent, focused, and studious. I came to really appreciate sharing these two hours of quiet time with others. Though online, I could feel the concentration of my colleagues. It is a supportive, benevolent, and friendly space to “work together – alone”. The experience proved to be efficient, rewarding, and convivial. For all these reasons, I am hoping to have more Writing Retreats with RC 25 and encouraging Members to join.

Elections of new Executive Board approaching

Please be advised that the current RC25 ISA Board will have to step down in 2023 and therefore we will be running the elections for the new board in early 2023, so it can be constituted in Melbourne after the elections. Board members are elected by RC25 membership in good standing and all individuals can hold position on the board for maximum of 2 terms.

Achievements by RC 25 Members

We congratulate strongly Guillermia Jasso, who won the 2022 James S. Coleman Distinguished Career Award given by the Mathematical Sociology Section of the American Sociological Association.

Migrants’ access to rights and statuses: the legal-administrative intermediation field

Dear colleagues,

I would like to draw your attention to the call for papers Migrants’ access to rights and statuses: the legal-administrative intermediation field that I’m coordinating with Paola Bonizzoni (University of Milan) The session will be held at the University of Trento, from 7 to 10 June 2023, as part of the 9th Ethnography and Qualitative Research Conference (ERQ 2023).

We hope to trigger debate between researchers coming from different countries, academic traditions and using different qualitative research methods on the study of (il)legal migrants' statuses and the legal-administrative intermediation field. The conference also aims at fostering transnational networks of collaboration in view of future shared research and publication projects.

Here you can find all the details of the call, including the following deadlines: submission of abstracts (max 1000 words) by January 16, 2023, communication of acceptance by March 13, 2023, and conference registration by April 26, 2023. Abstracts should be sent to erg.ethno.conf.soc@unitn.it - preferably keeping us in cc. (paola.bonizzoni@unimi.it and laura.odasso@college-de-france.fr).

We would be very grateful if you would help us circulate the call among your contacts!
